

"Where do I come from?" 60X80 cm, acrylic on canvas, 2001

Stereotypes or consistency in style are not characteristics of my art-work. I particularly appreciate in art freedom, independence from set borders, diversity of possibilities and free creative opportunities, which I can use and do apply.

I am no Art-Rebel, no avant-gardist; I am a daydreamer, a receptor of inner and outer stimuli, putting them into visual and haptic forms comprehensive to others without pretending to have a special mission.

The spontaneity of my paintings contrast to the structured meticulous creation of my mixed-media work.

In my private life I am constant, settled and predictable - in my art-works I am not.
